

FLIGHT INSTRUCTOR COURSES - HELICOPTER

PRIVILEGES

The flight instructor course will lead you to a qualification which entitles to train students for the PPL and for type rating on aircraft single engine. The flight instructor can train CPL student pilots after having flown 200 training hours and can also instruct trainee instructors after they have flown 500 training hours. Instrumental Rating Instructor can train for the IFR part of modular courses, integrated courses and for extension on a multi engine helicopter, if he/she holds the TRI requisites. Type Rating Instructor can train for type rating courses on ME helicopters.

PRE-REQUISITES

For flight instructors candidates: CPL holders must have 250 helicopter flight hours, of which 100 hours as PIC; PPL holders must have 200 helicopter flight hours as PIC and also must have passed the CPL or ATPL theory exam. For instrumental rating instructors candidates: you must have minimum of 500 IFR flight hours of which, at least, 250 in an helicopter. For type rating instructor candidates: you must have at least 100 hours as PIC on type.

THEORETICAL COURSE

It lasts approximately 2 months and ends with a final exam at the Academy. The IRI and TRI theory courses may be organized for single applicants on demand. A pre-check must be taken before starting the course.

PRACTICAL COURSE

The planning office of Italfly Academy organizes the appointments with the instructors for booking the flight hours on request. For FI, this includes a minimum of 30 flight hours of which 5 can be flown with another trainee instructor.
